

Accepting referrals for Livingston and Washtenaw County residents who may benefit from community care coordination

What is it?

MI Community Care is a free community-wide care coordination program run by regional health, behavioral health, and social service organizations.

The goal: To improve the health and well-being of people with complex needs by providing long-term, coordinated, and multidisciplinary care management.

Hundreds of Livingston and Washtenaw County residents have benefitted from the program, which began in 2016 with federal funding.

Who does it serve?

MI Community Care works best for people who need long-term case management from multiple service agencies--including health, behavioral health, and social service providers.

To qualify, participants should meet three or more of the following criteria:

- 1) Five or more emergency department visits in the last 12 months
- 2) Homelessness or housing instability
- 3) Three or more chronic medical conditions
- 4) No primary care engagement in the past two years
- 5) A mental health or substance use related need
- 6) Social needs, such as food insecurity, transportation, utility assistance, insurance, etc.

What are the benefits?

Our housing providers, mental health and substance use counselors, complex healthcare management programs, health clinics, and social service providers have developed tools and techniques that remove barriers to care for people with complex needs including:

- Shared consent forms and information technology platform
- Integration with medical providers including Michigan Medicine, Saint Joseph Mercy Health System, and Packard Health
- Shared community health workers and peer support specialists who have strong community relationships, lived experience overcoming health and personal challenges, and specialized knowledge of local resources
